

Important donation to NAL

Maurice Hickmott, one of the founder members of the RAeS Flight Simulation Group in 1970 and a former Chairman of the Group, has donated his archive of Royal Aeronautical Society proceedings to the National Aerospace Library. He is pictured (right) last month in the Society Headquarters at No.4 Hamilton Place presenting one of the documents to Immediate Past President, and another former Chairman of the Flight Simulation Group, Capt David Rowland. Also pictured is Peter Barrett of the Learned Society Board who undertook some research on the NAL's holdings in relation to the donation. Capt Rowland commented that the Society was delighted with Maurice Hickmott's generous donation which will help enhance the NAL by filling some significant gaps in the Society's historic material held there. He went on to say: "It is a particular pleasure to be able to thank a donor in person for this wonderful gift, as all too often such donations only come to the Society in the form of legacies."
